

Policy # 21
Photo Release

The Booth & Dimock Memorial Library reserves the right to photograph and record people in the library or participating in library events. These photos and videos may be used in Library publications and publicity, including monthly and annual reports, webpage posts, and social media posts. Library staff will make every effort to notify members of the public when photography or filming is taking place. The Library will never post images with identifying information, such as participant's name, without direct consent. This policy is available for review on the library website, in the library vestibule, and in the Stave Family Community Room.

Please notify Library staff if you do not wish yourself or you child(ren) to be photographed.
